We are here to assist you. Retreats should be impactful and transformative. By the end of the retreat, your department, team, and/or unit, should know what is the goal and how you will get there. We can help design an approach that is both enterTRAINing and informative. It will be a one-of-a-kind experience, both memorable and relevant.

Strategy and its application are the keys to retreat success. Attendees receive from the retreat what they put into it. Learning and growth go hand in hand. It is a continuous process and we are here to help. To assist us with providing such a service, we conduct an informal needs assessment to get to know you, the audience, the culture and the desired outcomes. What are you looking to achieve?

There are many options for your retreat but one important, key element for success is engaging your staff in the retreat. Pre-retreat options include departmental in-person workshops, webinars, or individual assessments. Knowledge recall post-retreat is aided by workshops, webinars or other individual opportunities throughout the year.

Our goal is to deliver a learning experience that fits your team’s needs and continues to enhance and grow your team throughout the year and beyond. Let us help you.
