U.S. District Court Strikes Down Obama Administration Overtime Rule

Last week, the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas struck down the Obama Administration Department of Labor's rule which changes the "white collar exemption" to the Fair Labor Standards Act overtime requirements. For example, the rule would have doubled the minimum salary threshold for "white collar" overtime exemptions. The Court previously issued a preliminary injunction blocking implementation of the rule.

The Department of Labor is presently soliciting public comment on an RFI with a comment deadline of September 25th. APLU is working with other higher education associations on a response.
