
STAFF EXCELLENCE AWARDS

Chancellor

The UNCG Staff Excellence Award is presented each year to deserving permanent staff employees as nominated by other staff, supervisors, administrators and/or students. An awards committee, appointed by the Chancellor, will review nominations and choose the names of up to two individuals to receive the awards of $1,000 each. The awards will be presented at the Excellence Day Convocation in the spring. Consideration is based on the following criteria; more than one category may apply:

Devotion to Duty: The nominee has exhibited unselfish devotion to duty far and above the normal requirements and has contributed significantly to the advancement of service to the UNCG community and to the people of North Carolina.

Innovation: The nominee has successfully established new and outstanding work methods, practices and plans for his/her department that are consistent with the University Mission.

Service: The nominee has made outstanding contributions to the University through involvement on committees and/or representing the University in civic or professional organizations, etc.

Human Relations: The nominee has made outstanding contributions in the field of human relations or employee-management relations that foster a model working and and/or learning environment.

Other Achievements: The nominee has made outstanding contributions or service deserving recognition not described in the categories above. This could include, but is not limited to, acts that demonstrate safety and heroism or other examples beyond the call of duty.
